The Telephone Wire

There are some problems in the army that are very complicated. In fact the experts have been working on them for several years. On the other hand there are some problems in the Army that are very simple. Only trouble is that with red tape and forms to be filled out, they can become also complicated.

General John Merriband had just moved into his new office. He reached for the phone and he saw it was at the end of his desk. He was accustomed to having his phone in the center of the desk. His eye took in the situation:

"Need only a foot and a half more of phone wire. Then the phone will be where I want it to be."

He sent for Colonel Johnson and told him what was to be done. Then Colonel Johnson sent for Captain Riley and told him what was to be done. Then Captain Riley contacted the expert on phone repairs.

"You have to fill out a form 62a, a requisition blank which is R-7, and a standard repair form. Should take about three days."

"All that for just a foot and a half of wire?" questioned the Captain.

"You know, the Army is the Army," was the reply he got back.

Private Frank Lemmons had been assigned to duty at this military complex. He walked out of the captain's office and went to the General's office. In the afternoon, everyone was happy.

"This certainly was fast service," smiled the General. "Now the phone is where it should be." be."

How was it done so quickly? Private Frank Lemmons moved the desk a foot and a half closer to the wall!

The Colonel's Kid

The main assignment of Colonel John Henerson is to entertain those visitors who come to the army area. To see our latest fighting equipment in action. They are really big time officials from all over the world. Mrs. Henerson is a very good hostess. And they have one boy, Peter, age eleven, who is rather clever and knows what to do in an emergency. The Colonel will always tell about the time he and his men were surrounded by the enemy:

"They gave us twenty minutes to come to a decision. Either we surrender or they wipe us out. We were low on food, on water, and on ammunition. But our orders were to hold that area. Even if we had to be wiped out. The whole course of the war depended on keeping that strategic spot away from enemy control. Six of our planes had tried to drop us supplies. And each one was shot out of the air.

I knew only one thing. We would carry on our tradition. Fight to the last bullet. Then if necessary fight with our bare hands. We would never surrender. I knew my secret orders. If we could hold out for two more hours, then reinforcements would be on the way. The big guns of our battleships would then be near enough to pound at the enemy. And our planes were flying in from our newly acquired air strip. What to do?"

The Colonel could go on no more. He was full of emotion. But son Peter took over:

"I have heard this story many times before. In fact, I have taped it. So let my father rest and listen to how it ends on my tape recorder."

****

Reading Matter

The Colonel was a well known figure at all Washington Parties. His wife felt it was much more important that she stay at home with the children. And each time he left she gave him the same warning.

"Always feel that an enemy agent may be present. So control your drinking. You never want to betray an important military secret."

"But I don't know even the slightest secret," he would always reply. "I promise to stop before the one too many."

On this particular evening he sort of lost control of his mathematic ability to count. The Major spotted him and went into action.

"It is very late. Time you went home. We have an early briefing meeting tomorrow morning."

He was thus taken to his car. And his chauffeur knew exactly what to do. Drove him home. Conducted him to the easy chair in the living room and then left. The Colonel did his best to think very clearly.

"I will gargle so my wife can't smell anything on my breath. Then take a book and read."

He followed his own suggestions. His wife came into the living room.

"Sober?" is all she asked. One word was sufficient.

"Reading this book on war," he replied.

"Not sober," she told him. "Close that record album."

Spy-All Lets You "See Through" Walls, Fences and Locked Doors!

Secret of Private Detectives and Industrial Spies Revealed!

A remarkable optical device about half the size of a cigarette now makes it possible for you to see without being seen. People who relax in "privacy" have no way of knowing that you can see everything they do!

Spy-All allows you to secretly observe every action—while you stay safely hidden. Operation of the tiny device is silent, almost impossible to detect. The eye-piece is no bigger than the head of a pin!

If you drilled an ordinary hole through a wall, fence or door, you could see very little. But installation of Spy-All's unique optical principle, called "X-pand," multiplies your field of vision. With X-pand, almost no detail or movement in a room can escape your Spy-All sight! That gives you some idea of Spy-All's powers! But the real surprise is the price: three dollars!

Unlimited Uses:

Spy-All's uses are limited only by your interests and imagination!

Spy-All can penetrate a 3-inch-thick wall in your home, office or factory. The highest fence or thickest door can't stop you from observing—without being observed!

Professional Uses Suggested:

Private and hotel detectives. Insurance investigators. Undercover agents. Security guards. Store owners—watch shoplifting suspects. Employers—get eye-witness proof of loafing or theft. Hospital staff—watch restless patients without disturbing them.

Camera hobbyists can even take pictures through its low-distortion lens! And Spy-All has possibilities that Candid Camera never dreamed of!

Order Spares and Extras!

Order spares so you're never denied sudden or unexpected opportunities. Order extras for trusted friends, they might be glad to pay you a handsome profit.

The Spy-All principle was perfected in Germany. They are now being sold by a special division (Detection Appliances) of a reputable mail order firm, located at 466 North Western Avenue in Los Angeles. Their total sales throughout the U.S. are over $1,000,000. The owner has been a respected local businessman for 19 years.

5-Year Service Guarantee:

Spy-All is sold with this 5-year guarantee: If it fails to work due to any defect, without any charge, D.A. will either repair or replace it—or at its option, refund the purchase price.

ORDER NOW!

Never finished high school?

Now you can get a diploma without going back

You already know why it's important to have a high school education. You've probably learned the hard way that it can be pretty difficult to get the kind of job you want without one. No matter how hard you're willing to work.

What can you do about it?

Maybe you've thought of trying again to get a diploma. But you've suffered enough classroom "battle fatigue" to last you a lifetime. So you'd hate to travel that route again even if you could.

But what if we told you that there was now a much better way to get a high school education? An adult way, which gives you regular high school subjects and your choice of practical vocational subjects which help you get started in one of a number of profitable fields.

That's the unique Wayne School way. You do your reading and assignments in your spare time, in the relaxed atmosphere of your own home, and "turn in" your completed assignments by mail. You don't have to give up your present job. You don't have to study or travel to class at inconvenient times.

And you needn't be afraid of dropping out all over again, if you had trouble with school before. Wayne's specially prepared lessons make even difficult subjects much easier to take. And Wayne grades your assignments in private, by mail. You're free from competitive classroom pressures. You stay relaxed, and your progress is much smoother.

If you're 17 or over and not now in school, why not send for more information? Mail coupon for our free booklet, "How to finish High School at home." You're in for a pleasant surprise.
